Order of Performance - Contest

- Xavier Tapias FISM Europe President

Competition lineup lists have always been a controversial topic. Combining each competition session, which takes into account the most complicated stage sets and variety between categories, into marathon sessions lasting more than four hours, is no easy task.

To achieve maximum transparency in the process of creating the lineup lists, FISM, in coordination with the Organizing Committee of each World or Continental Championship, organizes an online draw. The draw is made for each of the eight FISM categories.

The starting order of each contestant in each category allows the organizer to structure each session with variety, taking into account the technical difficulties to be overcome and also ensuring an enjoyable competition from start to finish. Most importantly a draw avoids favoritism and ensures maximum transparency for the competition.

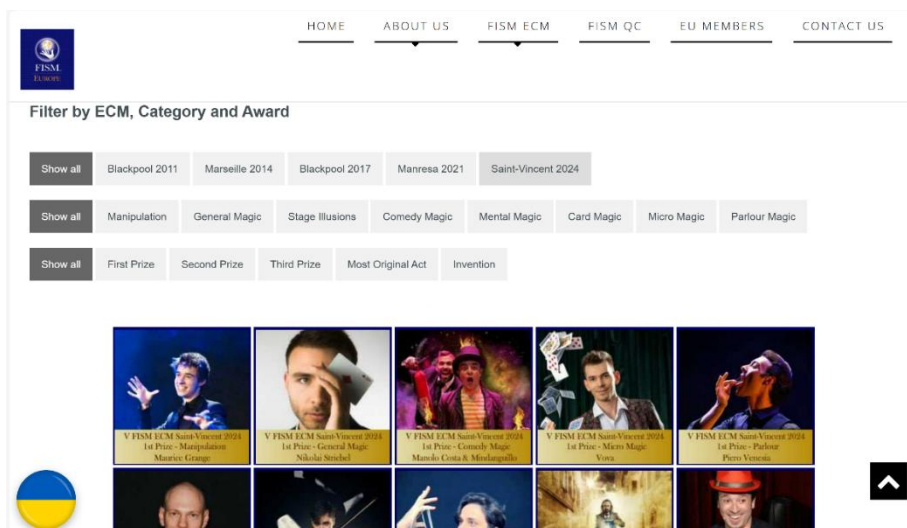

Participants are reminded that changes to the list are not acceptable under any circumstances.

Improvements to the FISM Europe website

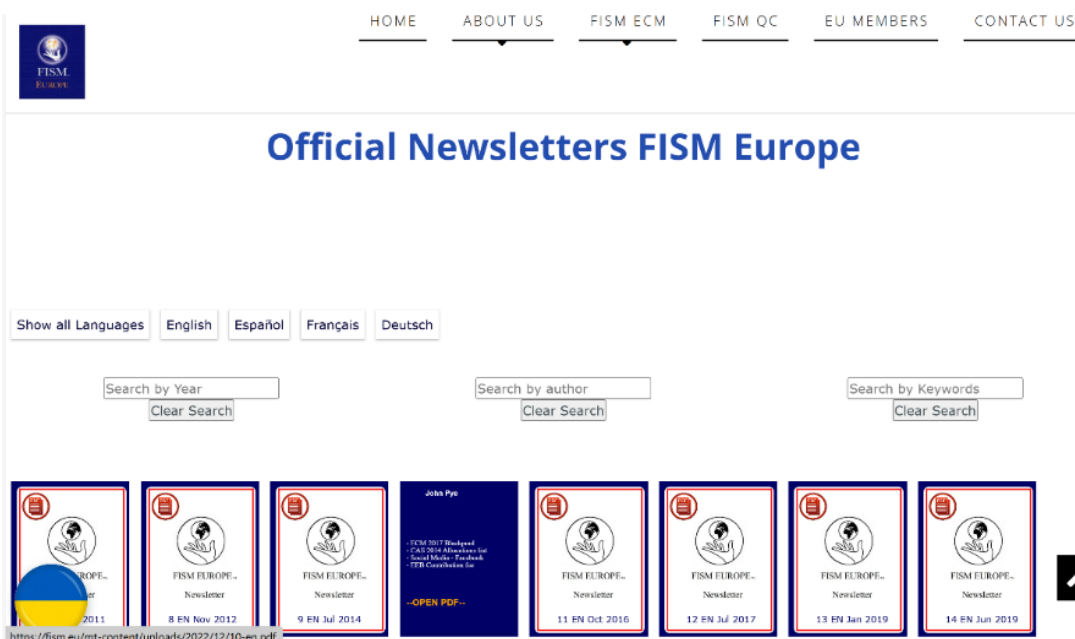

Xavier Tapias - FISM Europe President - Joan Carles Gil - IT Consultancy Group

In an effort to continuously improve, changes have been made to two FISM Europe pages.

In the Award Winners Gallery the search filters have been improved and information about the FISM ECM host city, year, award and corresponding category have been added at the bottom of each photo. This information is colored Gold, Silver, and Bronze for easier identification. The three search filters allow the user to obtain photos of the winners for the year, category, and award.

The other improvement has been made to the Official Newsletters page. Search filters have been introduced, not only by document date, but also by author and by keyword search within each PDF.

Official FISM Ceremonies

FISM continues to emphasize and highlight the importance of competitors at the World and Continental Championships. For this reason, it is essential that the Presidents of FISM member clubs, the teams from the various countries, all participants in the FISM WCM and Continental Championships, and the competitors themselves contribute to ensuring an exciting and spectacular Opening Ceremony.

Along the same lines, the Awards Ceremony is the culmination of the FISM Championships and must match the effort, passion, and dedication of all the contestants.

For all these reasons, we recommend that each country prepare appropriate TEAM attire for the inaugural parade.

For the Awards Ceremony, it is highly recommended that all contestants dress appropriately to look great on stage and for the required photos and videos.
